

Amsterdam

Get faster throughout

Voice

Guitar

Cajon

In the 3

V.

G.

port of Am-ster-dam there's a sai-lor who sings Of the dreams that he brings from the wide o pen sea In the 7

V.

G.

port of Am-ster-dam there's a sai-lor who sleeps While the ri-ver-bank weeps to the old wil-low tree In the 11

V.

G.

port of Am-ster-dam there's a sai-lor who dies Full of beer full of cries in a drun-ken down fight But in the 15

V.

G.

port of Am-ster-dam there's a sai-lor who's born On a mug-gy hot morn by the dawn's ear-ly light In the

C.

2

V.

port of Am-ster-dam where the sai-lors all meet There's a sai-lor who eats on-ly fish-heads and tails And he'll

G.

C.

23

V.

show you his teeth that have rot-ted too soon That can drink down the moon That can haul up the sails And he

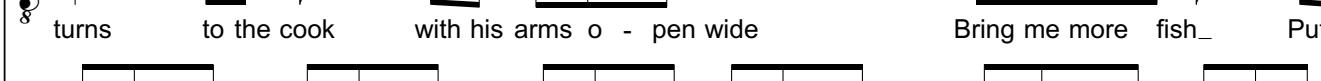

G.

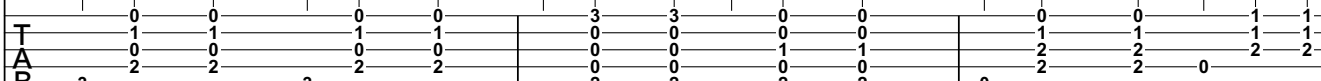

C.

27

V.

turns to the cook with his arms o - pen wide Bring me more fish_ Put it

G.

C.

30

V.

G.

C.

Amsterdam

32

V.

too full to try__ So he gets up and he laughs and he zips up his fly In the

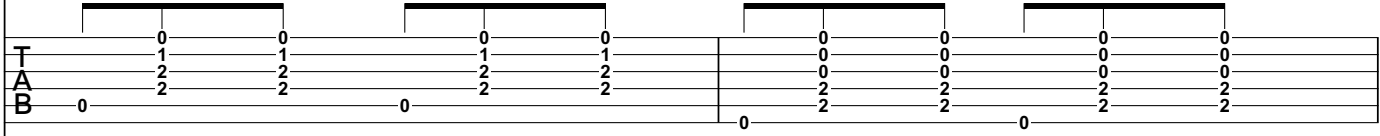

G.

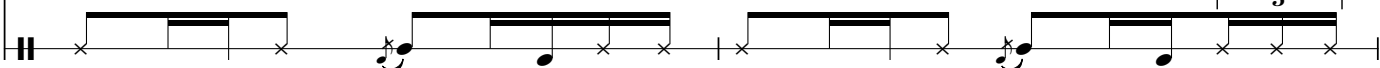

C.

35

V.

port of Am-ster-dam you can see sai - lers dance Paun - ches

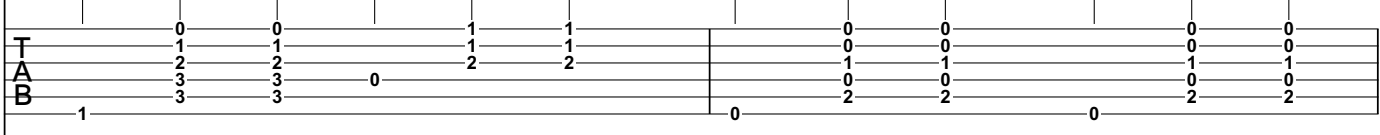

G.

C.

37

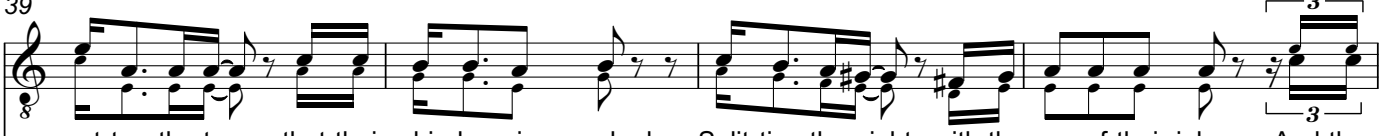

V.

bur - sting their pants Grin - ding wo - men to paunch They've for -

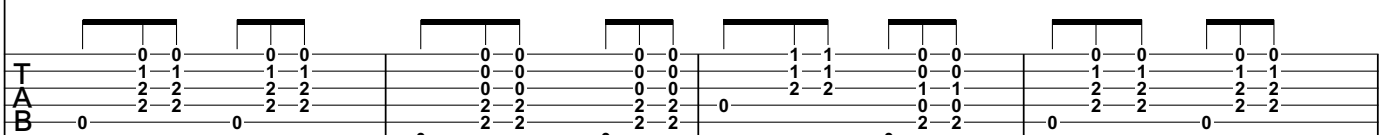

G.

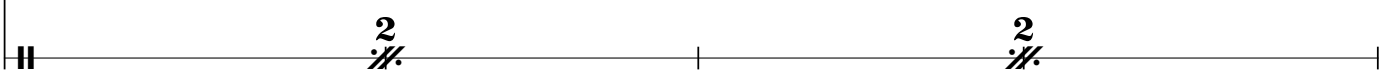

C.

39

V.

got-ten the tune that their whis-ky voice croaked Split-ting the night with the roar of their jokes And they

G.

C.

Amsterdam 4

43

V.

turn and they dance and they laugh and they lust 'Til the ran - cid sound of the ac-

G.

C.

46

V.

cor - di - an bursts And it's in - to the night with their

G.

C.

48

V.

pride in their pants And the slut that they tow un-derneath the street-lamps In the

G.

C.

51

V.

port of Am-ster-dam there's a sai - lor who drinks And he

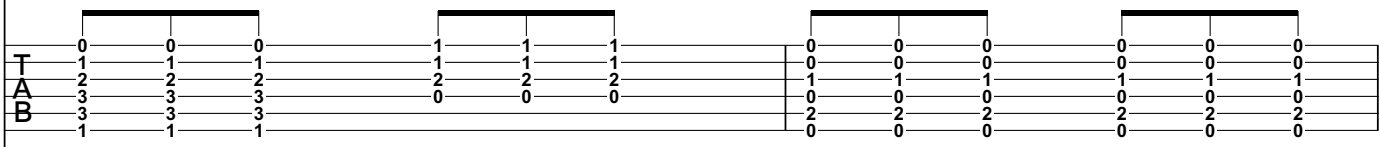

G.

C.

Amsterdam

53

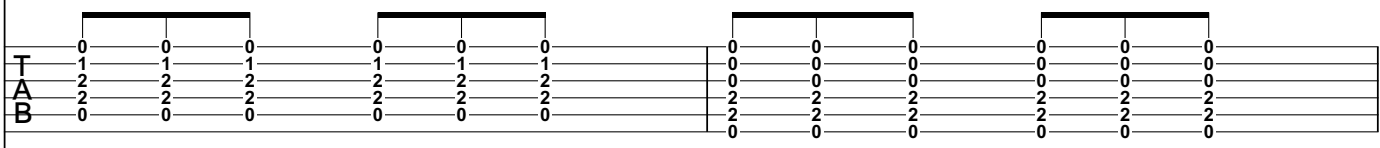

V.  drinks and he drinks and he drinks once a - gain_ He

G.

C.

55

V.  drinks to the health_ of the whores of Am - ster - dam Who have

G.

C.

57

V.  pro-mised their love to a thou-sand o-ther men They have bar - gained their bo-dies Their

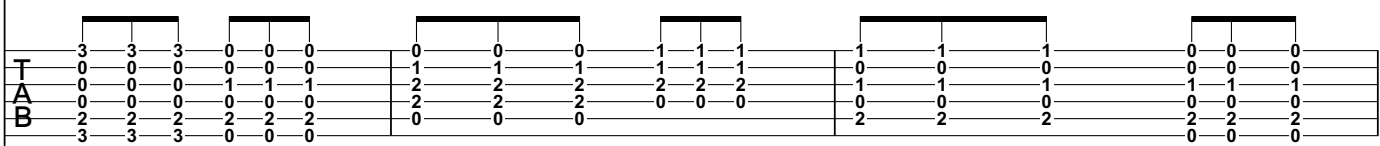

G.

C.

rit. . . . .

60

V.  vir-tues all gone For a few dir - ty coins And when he can't go on He puts his

G.

C.

6

accel.

7

rit.